KENTUCKY WEATHER REPORT.

What We May Expect Between This Time and To-morrow Evening.

THE LEDGER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

White clouds—Fair; Blue—Rain or snow; With black and grey—Wet; Warmer grow; If black's beneath—Colder; If white be; Unless black's shown—no change we'll see.

The above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at a o'clock to-morrow evening.

WHERE WILL THEY COME?
There's money plenty in the banks,
And mud upon the streets;
The day is clear, the grass is green—
Most charming "bitter sweets."
Our street cars are the lightning kind,
The dust is awful thick;
Our waterworks are hard to beat—
Oh, would our streets were brick!
We wait and sigh for better things,
Before we'll quit this town;
Oh, meadow friend, don't tell us that
"They'll come some other day."

THEIR NEW HOUSE OF WORSHIP

The Handsome Edifice Just Completed for the Southern Methodists.

The new M. E. Church, South, is now nearly completed and equipped, and the members of the congregation can congratulate themselves on having one of the most beautiful and attractive places of worship in the state.

The structure, of imposing appearance, is erected on West Second street, on the same site where the old building had stood for forty years, and where the latter's predecessor stood also. Every piece of material used in the construction is of the finest, and every workman employed was a master of his art.

For some years the congregation had been considering the advisability of replacing the old church with one more modern in architecture and appliances, and finally all obstacles were overcome, the assumed definite shape, a determination to do was resolved upon and the result has been most gratifying to all concerned.

To the real and earnest and daily care and attention of the building committee and the untiring devotion of the Pastor much credit must be given.

The plans were drawn by Crassey & Brown, the well known architects of Cincinnati.

The contract for the whole of the work was awarded to the firm of Wormald & Carpenter of this city.

The building committee, under whose almost constant supervision the work was done, was composed of the following gentlemen: John W. Fower, Chairman, W. W. Ball, Thomas A. Keith, E. P. Browning and John C. Adamson.

The work of tearing down the old edifice was begun on Monday, the 8th day of June, 1891. On the same day of the present year it may be said to have been completed—everything was in readiness for the broom and scrub-brush.

The foundation was promptly built by that excellent workman, John Moran. The corner-stone was laid on the 25th day of September, 1891, with appropriate ceremonies.

The entire front of the building is of stone, the top of the work being done by Noel Brothers of Portsmouth. The pitch-work is of limestone and the remainder of the best quality of freestone.

The rest of the exterior walls are of brick, built by George M. Clinger of this city, which is a guarantee.

The tin and slate roof was put on by the popular firm of McClanahan & Shea. The painting contract was awarded to John Crane, and the plastering to John Hill. Both did their work in the most satisfactory manner.

The fresco work was done by William A. Lay & Co. of Cincinnati, and the handsome windows were furnished by William Coulter & Son of the same city.

The furniture is very pretty and ornamental and was received from the Cincinnati School and Church Furniture Co. The carpets and the hardware used were purchased of the old reliable firm of George Cox & Son, and the Frank Owens Hardware Co. of Mayville.

The heating and ventilating was attended to by the firm of Bennett & Peck, Cincinnati. An entire change of air can be had in the building within twenty minutes.

The gas fixtures were furnished by Dodd, Werner & Co., Cincinnati, and are very tasteful.

The plumbing was done in first class style by J. J. Fitzgerald of this city. Ball, Mitchell & Co. did the iron work, and of course it was well done.

A beautiful mantel, grate and hearth in the Pastor's study, furnished by Bierbower & Co., should not remain unmentioned.

The auditorium is in the form of an exact circle and seats three hundred and fifty people. The Sunday-school room, which is in the front part, is separated from the auditorium by folding shutters which can be easily raised, thus throwing the two rooms together and adding one hundred to the seating capacity. The Minister can be easily seen and heard from any part of the room. There is also a small gallery.

On either side of the pulpit are the Pastor's study and the space reserved for the choir.

Altogether it is as perfect in arrangement and as attractive in design as one could wish to see. It is all that skillful labor and thoughtful consideration of every minute detail could accomplish. It is an ornament to the city and will long stand as a tribute to those who undertook the enterprise and so successfully and satisfactorily carried it through.

The day for the dedication has been definitely determined upon. It is the intention to make this occasion one long to be remembered, and it is not known just what time it will take to arrange all of the details. The date will be an early one at the farthest.

At a session of the Academy of Medicine in Cincinnati, one of the Professors read a paper on "Skin Grafting," and had two patients present to show the result of treatment by skin grafting. One of the patients had had his foot crushed in a railroad accident and suffered a great loss of skin. The Doctor had shaved off long strips of skin from the patient's thigh and put it on his foot. These strips of skin were very thin; in fact, thinner than paper. They were removed from the thigh without drawing blood or causing pain, and without leaving any scar or mark. The wounded foot on which the skin was grafted was nearly healed, fresh skin having grown from the thin strips. The subject in this case was Joe Sholl, who formerly was employed by E. F. Powell of this city as a baker.

WHY SECRETARY BLAINE QUIT.

One John W. Foster's Interference Causes the Great Premier's Resignation.

There have been several reasons assigned for the curt and seemingly hasty resignation of Secretary Blaine, but none of them are more plausible, or probably near the exact truth, than that assigned by the Washington correspondent of The Chicago Inter Ocean. Under recent date he says:

Many causes have been alleged for the action of Mr. Blaine in terminating his relations with the President so abruptly. The final cause, however, was not disclosed until day. The Canadian official who came to Washington to talk over the questions pending between the State Department and the Dominion had had one conference the day preceding the resignation, and met on Saturday, June 18th, to continue the discussion. At the Saturday meeting he was making a statement of his views of the points in dispute and what in his judgment was the question at issue, and the remedy for the differences between the two countries. There was also present John W. Foster, who had been attending to the matter of the State Department work during Mr. Blaine's absence and illness, and in the midst of the remarks of Mr. Blaine he was interrupted by him with the suggestion that the views just expressed would hardly have the President's approval.

Mr. Blaine proceeded with his remarks and reiterated what had already been stated, adding with emphasis that the State Department was able to take care of all the business belonging to it without advice or interference from anyone occupying a subordinate position in it. Thereupon Mr. Foster said he knew Mr. Blaine was not presenting the views of the President, and proceeded to state them by his direction and in his name.

"Gentlemen," said the Secretary, "this conference is adjourned," and he quickly left the room, penning his resignation while his indignation was at its height. Mr. Foster assured the Canadians that "Mr. Blaine's action was not as a matter of slight difference in the object of their visit, and that they could return to Ottawa at once and resume the discussion by correspondence. They accordingly left on the 4 o'clock train.

There were other causes of irritation with Mr. Blaine than the one just stated. The action was intended to make his stay in the department disagreeable, but after the humiliation he was subjected to in the presence of the Canadian officials, he said he could not remain in the office another moment, and that for reasons of tact he would resign.

"Mr. Blaine was written on the letter that it might hereafter appear that between the record of the adjournment of the conference and his resignation there was but a very brief space of time.

This statement now explains the concluding sentence of Mr. Blaine's resignation. "The confidence of public business in the Department of State justifies me in requesting that my resignation may be accepted immediately." In other words, Mr. Blaine construed Mr. Foster's statement as an announcement that he did not wish Mr. Blaine to be the representative in the State Department and that his official rights and facilities as the President's mouthpiece had been suspended.

THE LEDGER will issue a special edition early on the morning of July 1st. Advertisers will do well to take advantage of this issue, which will be large and unique. Copy must be in hand not later than noon of the 1st.

The oldest of the Dutch Journals has passed its 250th anniversary, and the publishers of the paper have issued copies of the first number of that journal as it appeared on January 16, 1666. It is said that the earlier copies of this paper were carefully consulted by Macaulay in preparing his celebrated history.

The House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce has authorized a favorable report on a bill to promote the safety of railway employees and passengers. It requires the locomotives to be equipped with power-brakes sufficient to control a train. Every new locomotive after July 1, 1893, must be equipped with power-brakes, and after July 1, 1895, all new or old cars sent to the shops for repairs must be equipped with automatic couplers, and after July 1, 1898, all cars must be so equipped. After July 1, 1895, all new cars (and after July 1, 1898, all cars) must be provided with continuous brakes to be operated by the locomotive. In July 1893, every common carrier shall file with the Interstate Commerce Commission a statement of the automatic coupler which it prefers. If any carrier desires to use a different coupler, the votes it shall be adopted as a standard automatic coupler. If no coupler receives this percentage the Commission shall, within six months, designate a standard automatic coupler.

A SINGLE child, sent to school before complete recovery from scarlet fever, in one of the districts of Paris, was clearly shown to have been the direct cause of 39 other cases of that disease, and eighteen deaths. Parents should take warning, and not risk the lives of hundreds of children by adopting such false methods as the above.

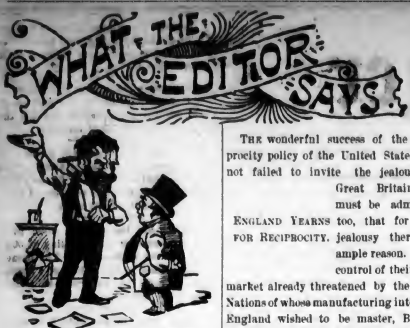

ELECTRICITY has been recently applied to establish the state of a horse's foot. Usage is to put one pole of a battery in contact with the inside of the hoof, the other pole in contact with the iron shoe. If the horse is pierced with a nail to the quick, the horse will feel the electric current and become irritated; in the other case, the current cannot pass through the foot.

SOME of the Cincinnati barbers are sore at the river captains. They say that they are willing to live up to the Sunday law, but they want everybody to abide by its provisions. It is their opinion that the barbers are doing a thriving Sunday business in their barber-shops, and that the police do not make any attempt to interfere. The matter will be discussed at the next session of the Barbers' Union.

VERY few people have any idea of how much it takes to run a poolroom, says The Ledger. It is a poolroom, a day for telegraph, and sometimes more; $5 a day for a telegrapher, $6 a day for a board writer, $30 a week for a cashier, $20 a week each for ticket writers, and there are many other expenses besides. Still the poolroom generally comes out ahead at the end of the season, but not nearly so much as the general public supposes.

It is claimed by some that under the provisions of the Constitution, the Revenue and Taxation bill and the Corporation bill, the banks will be forced into small cities and towns where the rate of taxation low, and that they will lose one branch office in every five cities. All right, Messrs. Bankers, they will be glad to have you. Our rate of taxation is much lower than any other equally important and pleasant city in the state.

The elevator of the Kentucky Mailing Company, Louisville, was destroyed by fire Sunday morning. The elevator occupied half a square, and contained 10,000 bushels of mail. The loss was $100,000, and the insurance was $45,000. The entire fire department was called out, and the main part of the plant was saved, it being detached from the elevator. The friction of the machinery is supposed to have started the fire in the two stories of the men were in the building, and they had difficulty in escaping. The entire plant was valued at $300,000, and several times it seemed that the whole would be destroyed.

IN HOC SIGNO VINCES.

A Word to Republicans.

The hope of the party lies in the expansion of a national Republican press. The Republican who reads or otherwise helps to support a Democratic paper is the executioner of one of his own party newspapers is contrary to the Republican cause.

Unanimously subscribed to by the National Republican League.

J. S. CLARKSON, President.
A. B. HUMPHREY, Secretary.

It looks like the present Legislature had come to stay. While the farmer-taxpayers are sweltering in the harvest field, their representatives at Frankfort are spending money for electric fans that they may be kept cool and pleasant during the summer months.

New men have been employed to fill the places of the strikers at the Louisville Fire Brick Works. The men went out on account of their employers' refusal to increase their daily wages from $1.25 to $1.50. Wonder if the owners of this plant are Democrats? Don't all speak at once.

The report of the House Committee on Civil Service Reform severely criticizes Postmaster General WALKER for ignoring the recommendation of Commissioner ROOSEVELT to dismiss employees of the Baltimore Postoffice who contributed to a campaign fund. But what else might be expected from a Democratic source? If the Foreign Missionary fund and the Civil Service fund could be curtailed under one big canvas, the appropriation would prove a dangerous companion of the Columbian Exposition.

At a recent meeting of the Louisville Merchant Tailors' Exchange there was considerable discussion over the proposed agitation on the present Tariff bill, referring to the importation of clothing. A petition signed by 350,000 merchant tailors and 2,000,000 mechanics will be presented to Congress arguing that the limit to the amount of clothing a person may bring to this country may be reduced. So, one by one, the working-men's organizations are realizing that the prosperity of this country depends upon protecting its own workmen—and buying goods made in America instead of buying goods made in Europe.

AKRON'S FEARS.

A Destructive Deluge Trembling Above That City.

A Chain of Lakes About to Empty Their Contents.

Upon the Resident and Factory Portion—Continued Rain Have Saturated Lakes to an Unprecedented Height.

—Embarkments Liable to Break.

AKRON, O., June 21.—Akron is threatened by a danger that is appalling in its possibilities. Immediately south of this city is a chain of lakes, which constitute the source of supply of the Ohio Canal. The chain comprises Turkey Foot, Long and Summit lakes, and the big and little reservoirs, the superficial area of which aggregates nine thousand acres. The almost continuous rains of the spring and summer have raised the water in these lakes to an unprecedented height, and there are some fears that the water will break through the embankment which runs between the reservoirs and Long and Summit lakes.

Notification of the danger came to the canal authorities Sunday night, and all night men watched the bank with anxiety. During Sunday and Sunday night the water rose seven inches, and it is now almost over the bank. Should the heavy rains of the past few days continue, nothing could prevent the water from breaking through the dam, and the entire contents of the lakes would sweep into Long and Summit and then down the course of the Ohio canal, through the very heart of the city. The canal banks are thickly populated, and factories, and stores, and residences extend to the very edge of the water on both sides. Should the break come the loss of both life and property would be incalculable.

LOUISVILLE SWINDLED.

Projectors of a Merchandise and Brokerage Company Disappear.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 21.—Another swindle has been worked on the Louisville public, and many citizens mourn the departure of C. H. Echols and his associates. Echols, about eight months ago, last October, C. H. Echols came to Louisville and established the Louisville Merchandise and Brokerage Co. His company paid $50,000 for one matured each week for every fifty subscribers, who had to pay in $1 a week. The scheme went all right until the certificate fell due. A few days ago Echols and his partner, Perry, went away. It is thought they went to Cincinnati, where the detectives believe they have been working a similar scheme.

New York World for Cleveland.

New York, June 20.—The World says editorially Tuesday morning: "The New York delegation to Chicago did not build up with a resolution to support Hill so long as he was a candidate for the presidency. It was only when he was elected that they held the delegation together as a means of beating Mr. Cleveland in a future campaign. The nomination of Mr. Hill has been seen to be wholly impracticable. It is now known to be utterly impossible. The claim that Mr. Cleveland can not carry New York is ill-founded. He can carry it any day. He is stronger in this state than any other man who is named."

A Resolution for Cleveland.

New York, June 21.—Rev. Dr. Chas. A. Briggs, Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, pastor of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn; Rev. Dr. H. E. Dugan, of the Church of St. John the Divine, and Rev. Henry Wilson, formerly Dr. Bainsford's assistant at St. George's, as well as Mr. Abbott and Mrs. Briggs, have enrolled themselves in the auxiliary league of the National Army, and by this action have signified their approval of the objects of that organization.

CANADIAN RECIPROCITY.

President Harrison tells it in the House.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—In a state paper sent to the senate Monday in answer to a resolution of February 24 last calling for information relative to reciprocity negotiations with Canada, the president sounds the death knell of that project and plants a mile post in American history by delivering, in effect, recommending that congress proceed to retaliate upon the Dominion for its persistent denial of the rights of American citizens (guaranteed by the treaty of Washington) in connection with the navigation of Canadian canals. The president, in his communication, says that his answer to the resolution was delayed at the suggestion of the secretary until the conference of the first instant took place between the secretary and the British minister, and Hon. McKim McKim and Hon. Geo. E. Foster. Hon. John W. Foster also appeared on behalf of the government of the United States at the request of the secretary of state.

The president says: "The result of the conference, as to the practicability of arranging a reciprocity treaty with the Dominion of Canada is clearly indicated in the letter of Mr. Blaine, which is herewith submitted. I think, by the terms of the treaty, a reciprocity treaty limited to the exchange of natural products would have been such in form. The benefits of such a treaty would have inured almost wholly to Canada. Previous experiments of the kind have failed to result to this government. A treaty that should be reciprocal in character and of an important list of manufactured articles, and have secured to the United States the right of free trade in these articles into Canada as against the world; and which should also contain a provision whereby we were ready to propose or assent to such an arrangement. The conclusion of the Canadian commissioners is stated in the report of Mr. Blaine as follows:

"In the substance, it seems to be impossible for the Canadian government, in view of the present political relations and obligations, to extend to American goods a preferential treatment over those of other countries. As Canada was a part of the British empire, they did not consider it competent for the Dominion government to enter into any commercial arrangement with the United States from the benefits of which Great Britain and its colonies would be excluded."

INDIANA DELEGATES.

Go Over to Cleveland and Will Stick to Him to the Last.

CINCINNATI, June 21.—The fight between the Cleveland and Gray factions in Indiana is over. At 3 o'clock Monday morning both factions held a separate caucus. The Cleveland men were informed by C. R. Pollard and J. E. Cates, of the Tenth district. For the first time since the delegates entered the Cleveland caucus, both promising to stand by Cleveland as long as his name was before the convention. At the Gray caucus the delegates were demoralized. An informal talk showed that every delegate conceded Cleveland's nomination. In order to place the state in a civilistic position before the country it was decided not to present Gov. Gray's name, but to join the Cleveland faction and vote as a unit for the ex-president. The delegates, having secured half of the delegation, gave the anti to understand that it was a matter of indifference to them whether Cleveland or Gray was elected. When the two factions had at the Palmer house Monday afternoon not a word was uttered until John E. Lamb announced that Gov. Gray's name would not be presented, and then moved that the delegation vote as a unit for Cleveland on the first and subsequent ballots. Editor Morse, for the Cleveland side, demanded a call of the delegation, so that each delegate be present in his own right. Every delegate voted for Cleveland. James Murdoch, another anti-Cleveland man, proposed that Senator Voorhees should second the nomination of Cleveland. Senator Voorhees, at the request of the delegation, accepted.

DRAWN TO DEATH.

A Pair of Rubber Boots Cause the Brother-in-Law of President McElrath to Die.

MARSHALL, O., June 21.—A distressing fatal accident Monday afternoon was the drowning of Josiah Chute, Jr., son of Gov. Comstock's Ohio, and brother-in-law of Hon. John McElrath, national president of the United Mine Workers. He attempted to pass under the West street bridge in a skiff, and as the water was almost up to the floor of that structure, he laid down in the boat and attempted to pull through by grasping the brace-rod beneath. Both oars were wrenched off, the boat capsized and Chute took the advice of friends by undertaking to swim to shore. He was handicapped in his efforts by a pair of rubber boots, which reached to his hips, and went down in the presence of several hundred people, and although the river has been dragged for six hours and dynamite exploded, the body has not been recovered. The victim was a single man, aged 21, and was a fine machinist and musician.

Turners Denounce Sunday Closing.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The North American Review, London, says: "The turners were unanimously adopted by the 850 delegates, in the name of the 46,000 members of the turners, to demand the abolition of the Columbia exposition on Sundays, and against changing the immigration laws of the country, and demanding that that liquor be sold at the Columbian exposition."

Only for Second Place.

CHICAGO, June 21.—Now that Gray is out of the running for the first place position, the Democratic ticket it is generally conceded that he has become the strongest candidate in sight for the vice presidency.

CLEVELANDERS

Confidently Claiming 580 Votes
On the First Ballot.

Delegates From Every State and Territory Now in Chicago.

The Anti-Clevelanders Claim That the Ex-President Can Not Be Nominated On the First Ballot, and That This Will Denominate His Forces.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The extravagant claims and the pretensions estimates which have characterized the campaign of the Cleveland and anti-Cleveland factions during the past week are gradually giving way to facts and figures. The delegates from every state and territory were in the city Monday morning, and the work of ascertaining the presidential preferences of individual delegates is progressing so rapidly that the relative strength of the Cleveland and anti-Cleveland factions is so nearly known that the only element of uncertainty in the matter is the state which is suspected of having secret preferences for favorite sons.

The managers of the ex-president's campaign Monday displayed with great deal of ostentation a carefully prepared table which gave Cleveland 580 votes in the first ballot, just ninety-four short of the two-thirds for a nomination. The anti-Cleveland factions, among which may be included not only the forces of Roosevelt, Taft and Bryan, but also those of Boies, Gray and the secret but very earnest workers of Senator Gorman, deride as necessarily extravagant these figures of the Cleveland leaders, and assert that their investigations show that the ex-president is assured but little, just ninety-four short of the two-thirds for a nomination. The anti-Cleveland factions, among which may be included not only the forces of Roosevelt, Taft and Bryan, but also those of Boies, Gray and the secret but very earnest workers of Senator Gorman, deride as necessarily extravagant these figures of the Cleveland leaders, and assert that their investigations show that the ex-president is assured but little, just ninety-four short of the two-thirds for a nomination.

Probably the most uncertain feature in the whole contest just at this time is the attitude of Senator Gorman, of Maryland. He is here as a delegate to the state delegation as a delegate-at-large, and outwardly maintains that he is devoted to the candidacy of Mr. Cleveland, but despite this assertion his name is more discussed than that of any other as the compromise candidate whom must ally all the factions and scattering delegates opposed to the renomination of the ex-president.

For twenty-two hours the secret emissaries of Senator Gorman have been ceaselessly engaged canvassing the various southern delegations to ascertain the disposition which the southern people manifest toward the ex-president. He is here as a delegate to the state delegation as a delegate-at-large, and outwardly maintains that he is devoted to the candidacy of Mr. Cleveland, but despite this assertion his name is more discussed than that of any other as the compromise candidate whom must ally all the factions and scattering delegates opposed to the renomination of the ex-president.

The Clevelandists Will Hear the News. BEEZARD'S DAY, Mass., June 21.—Grover Cleveland and his charming little family are enjoying life at their beautiful home, Grey Gables. The ticking of the telephone is to be heard at Grey Gables this week for both companies have offered to run a wire from the railway and to install an operator in the house, but otherwise the distinguished occupants of the mansion will remain undisturbed by the clamor of political factions.

MINNESOTA MILITIA

Called Out to Suppress Disorderly Striking Miners.

TOWNE, Minn., June 21.—The Minnesota militia, in the city comprising 14,000 men, shut down Saturday night, and the shafts are filling with water. President Bacon arrived in the city on Saturday night to state their grievances. Surface men's wages were reduced 10 per cent. last week and they demand that former rates be restored.

It is now believed that bloodshed will be avoided here, although there are yet many chances of serious trouble. Twenty-one of the strikers were arrested Sunday by details of militia with the sheriffs and deputies. The strikers were taken by surprise in their homes before they could get organized. It has calmed them greatly, and fires were started and pumps set to work Sunday night.

There are fears of a large quantity of dynamite in the hands of the strikers. There are also fears that the Ely mines will join them. The miners are a crowd of ignorant Austrians, who seem to have no reason when maddened, and on Saturday charged full 600 strong in the face of loaded rifles and shot. They were told to abandon the mines to the mercy of the strikers. The arrival of the militia saved the day. The mine will be started on Monday, and will come, if at all. The strikers are a desperate class of men, many of whom served in armies of their native country.

CHICKAMAUGA PARK. It is beginning to look as if the day of battle. WASHINGTON, June 21.—Gen. H. V. Borah has arrived from the Chickamauga National park. He reports all parts of the work of establishing the park rapidly progressing. A million miles of roads have been graded, and a number of the department's troops during the battle, and which have since been closed up, have been traced out and reopened. The park is now a beautiful scene, and the battle site is fast assuming the appearance which it held before the battle. IN THE EAST ROOM. President Harrison formally notified of his renomination. WASHINGTON, June 21.—About one hundred ladies of the East room, personal and political friends of the president, assembled in the East room of the White House at noon Monday to discuss the matter of electing the president of his renomination. The room was beautifully decorated with flowers and plants, which, together with the pretty costumes of the ladies, made the scene a brilliant one. Among those present were Senators Sherman, Hawley, Proctor, and others.

ONLY ONE LEFT.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine and Daughter Arrive in Chicago.

The Father's Emotion Upon Meeting James G. Jr., is Observable.

And One Can Imagine the Stricken Parents' Thoughts—He and His Wife and Daughter Near By Well-Tele. News of Confidence For Us.

CHICAGO, June 21.—Ex-Secretary Blaine, Mrs. Blaine and daughter arrived in Chicago Monday evening, to attend the funeral of Emma Blaine. The party was met at the depot by Cyrus H. McCormick, Jr., brother of James G. Blaine, and James G. Blaine, Jr. The latter had arrived in Chicago but an hour previously, and at once set to meet his father, mother and daughter. On meeting his son, the ex-secretary grasped his hand with affection, and for a moment his face showed deep emotion. He then drove rapidly to the McCormick residence, at 135 Rush street. There, for a short time, father, mother and daughter were left alone. An hour after arriving Mr. and Mrs. Blaine retired to gain a few hours' much needed rest.

Mr. Blaine, said Cyrus McCormick, "as well as his wife and daughter, stood the fatigue of their long journey remarkably well. Mr. Blaine was feeling unusually well as far as his bodily health is concerned. Of course, one can estimate the shock and anguish the death of his son has caused him. The wonder is that the man is able to bear up at all. That he has done so is another evidence of his remarkable spirit and indomitable will. We can only hope that when it is all over Mr. Blaine's spirit will not forsake him."

The funeral takes place at 2:30 today at Graceland cemetery. The services, at which Rev. Dr. McPherson, of the Second Presbyterian church, this city, will officiate, will be held at the Rush street residence, and will be strictly private. Telegrams of condolence continue to pour in from all parts of the country.

CLEVELAND AND GRAY. This will be the Democratic Presidential ticket for 1892 is the impression of those well posted.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The democratic Presidential ticket for 1892 will be Cleveland and Gray, or at least such was the general impression of leading men of all factions at midnight Monday night. The programme, as generally understood around the Cleveland headquarters at that hour, was that Wm. L. Wilson, of West Virginia, would make the permanent chairman of the democratic national convention, and that no fight would be made in the convention over the temporary chairmanship. Gov. Abbott, it is believed, is slated to make the nominating speech for Cleveland. The above report is based on the fact that the Democratic convention will be held at the Chicago convention, and that the Democratic convention will be held at the Chicago convention.

A HEATHEN HEARD FROM

Editor of The Ledger: If the number of God's elect cannot be increased or diminished, what good does the Foreign Missionary do anyhow? The heathen does not get ten per cent. of the benefits of "that dollar," but the Missionary gets all, and gives nothing in return. It may not look that way to one of God's elect, but it looks that way to A HEATHEN.

PERD.

The rain Sunday put the ground in good shape for work.

A great many farmers are complaining of tobacco dying in this section.

Edward Hatterman of Cincinnati was in our neighborhood Friday and Saturday.

G. W. Powell, whose illness was mentioned some weeks ago, still lingers. There is no hope for recovery.

Our orchards present a gloomy prospect for apples this season. A number of the trees seem to be diseased; dead bunches of leaves are found all through them.

MORANBERG.

W. E. Wells will have a veranda put up in a few days.

Miss Janie Moran of the Bottom visited Mrs. Alice Marsh Sunday.

McNutt & Foley have about completed a new tobacco barn for John Burgess.

Mrs. Magie Elitel and her sister, Mrs. Kate Keer, visited their uncle, Henry Crawford, at Dover Saturday and Sunday.

R. K. Lloyd and wife visited friends near Fern last Sunday. Mr. Lloyd reports tobacco looking well in that section.

A couple went from here Saturday to "Squire Beasley and he pronounced her usual blessing: "May you live long and be happy."

The Ledger correspondent at this place expects to have a neat little building put up fronting on the Germantown pike near the Christian Church, to be used as a notation store and other purposes.

A Remarkable Career Ended.

An extraordinary career ended in the death in New York of Laura B. Sickles, the wayward daughter of General Dan Sickles, who shot and killed Philip Barlow Key. Laura Sickles was born in London in 1854 while her father was the American Minister to the Court of St. James. When the General went to Spain as the American Minister under General Grant's administration Laura was 15 years old. She went with him to Madrid, and, young as she was, was sought after by many of the Spanish grandees. She fell in love with a handsome cavalier, and the courtship went on until the General interfered and broke the engagement.

When the General married again Laura left home. She gradually threw off all restraint, and at her death was virtually an outcast. From champagne and the coquette wines that private and public culture could afford, she turned to gin and whiskey.

The girl who had graced the receptions at the Court of Spain, whom Princes and Princesses had caressed, was now the Cress of back rooms in New York and Brooklyn, and her life was a record of lawless thought. Her income purchased more grace and charm had once possessed.

Who was buried in Greenwood beside her mother—that mother whose frailty brought about the most sensational tragedy of the century.

At Vaneburg Clark Gilbert, charged with complicity in a murder at Sand Hill, has been acquitted.
